“ I worked with Lee at DirecTV, he confided a lot in me, and I confided a lot in him. We developed a great friendship, I remember I covered some shifts for him so he could take his children to Disney, he bought me a very expensive cigar for doing that, what a legend. I'll never forget our conversations and I'll always be grateful for his friendship. I am certain he is resting with Odin in Valhalla among other great warriors drinking from curved horns and telling boastful stories. Rest easy brother, and enjoy. SKAL!

“ Playing Goldeneye on N64 in the late 90s, some of the best times. We could go awhile not talking and still reach out to each other at any time. It's surreal, I had just talked to you because I was concerned and felt the need to check up on you, and the next day you were gone and I still don't want to believe it's real. I wish I told you how great a friend you had always been, I had no idea that would be the last time I talked to you. I hope you're at peace, and on some cosmic level know that you're loved, missed, and celebrated.

“ I'm not certain whether or not this is the Lee Pemberton who was in my 7th grade social studies class at Barboursville Middle School. The Lee who was in my class would be around the age of 37. If this is indeed the Lee that I know, I would like to offer my most sincere condolences for all his family, and I would also like to write what he put in my yearbook back in 1996:

Mr. Thompson,

You are the best social studies teacher and a real good friend. Ever since the beginning of the 7th grade I looked at you as a friend. I felt like that I knew you forever.

Lee Pemberton

P.S. I remember Lee as a person who was full of life and worked very hard in my classroom. He had somewhat of a temper on occasion, however, he never displayed his anger toward me. In fact, Lee always treated me with great respect. I'm thankful to have had the opportunity to teach him, but I'm even more pleased that he considered me to be his friend. Finally, I am proud of Lee's service to our country, but I'm certain he would have been proud to have served as well. I was in Vietnam around 55 years ago. I wish now I had shared that with Lee. May Lee Rest In Peace.

Most sincerely,

David L. Thompson,
Retired Teacher
